THE SEARCH FOR A BRIDE IS BAFFLING

Sixteen Days' Hunt Futile In Effort to Find Woman Who Left Her Husband After a Honeymoon of Six Days

THINK SHE WILL BE FOUND

Belief Expressed That Missing Lady Is Suffering From Amnesia, Loss of Memory — Father, Mother And Husband Grief-Stricken

Pittsburgh, August 14.—Baffled after a 16-day search in northwestern Pennsylvania, for his missing daughter, Daniel F. Tobin, McKeesport public official, returned home today unable to find a single trace of Mrs. Herbert M. Cooley, who suddenly left her husband in an Erie hotel after a honeymoon of six days.

Tobin and the girl's husband are still inclined to believe that the young bride is suffering from amnesia, and, despite local rumors of former sweethearts and quarrels over whether Mrs. Cooley should return to teaching school or take up the more prosaic duties of a housewife, all of which were denied, father and husband are confident she will be found in a few days.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Tobin, missing bride's mother, was on the verge of a collapse, and both father and husband are ill from worry and loss of sleep. Private detectives employed by Tobin are reported today to be in Meadville. They are questioning friends and schoolmates of Mrs. Cooley, who was known as the most beautiful girl in Allegheny College.

WOMAN HURT IN COLLISION

While on her way to Charleroi this morning, Mrs. D. Berkman of Bentleyville, driving an Oakland sedan, at 10:30 o'clock collided with a truck on the reservoir hill, near Bentleyville, but fortunately escaped with minor injuries when the car turned on its side.

The rear end of the sedan caught on the large truck going down the grade, causing the machine to turn over, pinning Mrs. Berkman within it. She was rescued from her position by two young men who happened by at the time of the accident, who took her to the office of Dr. A. N. Booth, where she was found to be suffering from a gash across the back of her right hand which required four stitches to close, and bodily bruises and lacerations.

Breeders To Hold An Outing Saturday-- Interest Is Manifested

Washington County Holstein breeders will hold their annual field day at the M. S. Wilson farm, Gamble Station on Saturday of this week in the form of a picnic. It is planned as a "get-together" session for the breeders of this type of cattle, one where they can discuss their interests and exchange experiences.

Prof. E. L. Anthony, of West Virginia university, who just recently returned from an extensive tour of the dairy districts of Europe and who is well known to breeders throughout this section, will be the principal speaker on a short program.

The committee in charge is planning a program of games and contests and a good swimming pool is available for those who may desire to go bathing. Dinner will be eaten in the grove on the Wilson farm in the form of a family basket lunch. Lemonade will be served by the club.

SIX MILLION ELECTRIC PLANT

Wilkes Barre, Aug. 14—The Luzerne county Gas and Electric company is completing plans for the erection of a six million dollar hydo-electric plant next year at Hunlock's Creek, twelve miles down the Susquehanna from here.

This company supplies most of the communities in this section not supplied by the Pennsylvania Power and Light and its growing business has brought about the decision to use water power in developing further plant resources instead of coal as heretofore.

It is expected, according to present plans, that work will start on the new plant early next year. It will be of the most modern type and one of the most efficient in the state.

Niagara Falls, New York, August 14—The First Baptist church, located in the center of the city, was bombed early today.

Every window in the church was blown out and in the Y. W. C. A. building, directly across the street, all the windows were broken.

Rev. D. C. Mercer, president of the Niagara Falls Council of churches and leader of vice crusade, is pastor of the church.

The police have no clue as to the identity of the bomber, and no motive for the crime, except in revenge for recent raids led by Rev. Mercer.

Tires Being Ruined By Picking Up Nails

Miscreants throwing roofing nails on the Monongahela-Lock No. 4 highway, between North Charleroi and Monongahela, is playing "Ned" with automobilists. Tires are being ruined, and despite the vigilance of the authorities no arrests have been made nor have the miscreants been caught or apprehended.

It is said that the state authorities will be notified. The practice of throwing the nails in the road is thought to be the pranks of boys, and a local gentleman, who picked up one of the nails while traversing the highway, said yesterday that the practice had been in vogue for the past 10 days or two weeks.

Frank Soudieski, 36 years old, a Russian, residing along the Monongahela-Donora highway, suffered severe bruises and a broken wrist yesterday at the noon hour, when a Stutz car, driven by Frank Holmes of Castle Shannon, struck him as he stepped from a machine in which he was riding to his home in Donora.

Checking Up Odds And Ends For A Report

At the headquarters of the hospital campaign in the Municipal building everybody is busy checking up odds and ends and preparing a report in the form of a digest of all figures of importance in the drive which raised the money for a new hospital building. This morning the figures on the scoreboard were corrected by adding to it enough subscriptions that have come in making the total $205,000. The team totals on the scoreboard for the entire campaign were also put on the board showing that Captain Fred W. Brady and Team 2 of Division "A" is the high team.

Records show that the following organizations subscribed Italian United Society, $1,000, Ku Klux Klan, $500; Federated Women's Organization, $500.

In the work at the office is the preparation of a first notice of payment on subscriptions due September 1. These will be made at the First National bank to George H. Hott, treasurer of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital.

The notice will be mailed in a few days, August 22, to be exact. It is hoped that as many as possible will pay their subscriptions in cash in full, as the directors are anxious to start work as soon as possible and money is necessary to do that.

THE CAMP MEETING AT BENTLEYVILLE

Gratifying Interest Is Being Taken — New Interest Is Evoked—Attendance Last Sunday Larger Than For Several Years, It Is Said

MESSAGES ARE INSPIRING

Feature Next Week the Coming of Rev. H. B. Mansell, For 16 Years a Missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church In Java

From time, it seems almose immemorial campmeetings at Bentlevville have been a household word among people of Washington county. What fond recollections they must bring to old time folk, living here and elsewhere. This year interest in them have taken on new life, from all reports. The attendance last Sunday was the largest in years, it is said. Among the number were people from Charleroi and contiguous vicinity, the drive by auto or otherwise being an especially fine one

Inspiring messages of cheer and hope for the christian are given each day, the promise of a better life for those who are daring to remain unforgiven, by the Rev. Clarence Houk, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Claysville, and Dr. J. K. Jobes of Washington. The Rev. J. R. Longner, pastor of the Bethel Presbyterian church, is expected to arrive today and remain over the closing Sunday.

Next Wednesday afternoon and evening, the Rev. H. B. Mansell, for 16 years a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church in Java, will be present and will state the needs of the foreign field. The Young People's meetings are in charge of Miss Janie Bradford, and the children are cared for by Miss Sara Thompson.

Each evening an evangelistic message is delivered by the Rev. H. W. Lucas of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Washington. A number of persons have asked for the prayers of the saints, and do highly resolve to eschew sin and embrace the higher and better life.

The campmeeting has ever been a power for good in the community of Bentleyville, and those in charge of the same this year feel greatly encouraged over the outlook for one of the most successful series of protracted meetings in the history of campmeetings as they reflect Bentleyville.

"BEAUCAIRE" OPENS BIG IN TWO CITIES

Smashing house records and winning public alike, Rudolph Valentino returned to the screen this week when Paramount's "Monsieur Beaucaire" opened at the Roosevelt Theatre in Chicago and the Howard Theatre in Atlanta, Ga.

[illegible] declared not only was Valentino at his best in a role that fitted him perfectly, but that the picture also was one of the most beautiful productions ever made. That it would be the picture box-office success of the year was a unanimous prediction.

A line of patrons several blocks long stood for hours outside of the Roosevelt Theatre, Chicago, for every performance in the opening week of the engagement. Tuesday night a torrential thunderstorm came early in the evening following the hottest day which Chicago has experienced in eight years. Despite the downpour, however, crowds that were going in to see Valentino stood in line for two blocks outside of the theatre. Sam Katz of Balaban & Katz bought a large stock of umbrellas and distributed them to the patrons who were unable to find shelter until the opening of the show, but who refused to give up their place in line.

Despite the heat of the day and the downpour at night, Mr. Katz reported that "Monsieur Beaucaire" on Tuesday came within $8 of the Roosevelt Theatre record.

At the Howard Theatre in Atlanta, the experience was the same. The thermometer outside the theatre registered 110 degrees, yet mobs crowded the sidewalks at every performance trying to get in to see the picture that marked Valentino's return to the screen after an absence of two years.

"Beaucaire" will be presented at the Coyle theatre for five days, commencing Monday, August 18 and continuing to Friday evening, August 22, inclusive.

Woman Throws Herself In Front Of Two Pennsylvania R. R. Trains

Twice attempting to commit suicide by throwing herself on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad in the Tylerdale section within a period of one hour yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Tillie Petzack, aged about 50 years, of 11 Elizabeth street, Washington, widow with six little children dependent upon her, was taken into custody by the police.

Officers who went to her home to secure her children, found a large quantity of liquor there, it is claimed and a charge of violating the liquor laws was preferred against her before Justice of the Peace J. F. Carmichael. In default of bail she was removed to the county jail and her children taken to the juvenile court detention rooms.

Mrs. Petzack was manufacturing and selling liquor [illegible] means of supporting her children, the oldest of whom is 11 and the youngest one year of age. Her husband, William Petzack, was killed on a railroad at Woodlawn last February. After being placed in jail she became frantic and would not be quieted until her children had been brought to her.

Mrs. Petzack first threw herself on the tracks in front of the locomotive of a freight train due in Washington shortly after 2 o'clock. She was rescued by the crew of the train. When the passenger train, leaving Washington at 3:15 oclo'ck reached the Tylerdale section the woman had again thrown herself on the track. The crew was on the lookaut and after her second attempt the police were asked to take charge of her.

THE NATIONS AND THE GAMES.

During the World War the newspapers of all the nations and sections thereof "played up" the achievements of the home heroes, and the same inevitable tendency has been noticeable in the accounts of the Olympic games in Paris this year. In consequence there is a pretty general impression in this country that the American athletes won almost everything, and that among the other nations only Finland and Great Britain made a mentionable showing. The complete figures now published will modify this view considerably. As a matter of fact every one of the 19 nations tabulated in the returns has something to boast of, including even little Esthonia, which won a place in Greco-Roman wrestling, and Haiti, which won three places in rifle team work. Since 1917, by the way, not a few Haitians have had considerable practice shooting at American marines.

The judges of the Olympic contests have now distributed 361 medals for first, second and third places. On points the United States stands first, with 94; France second, with 64. Of first places the United States took 45, Finland 37, France 36, Great Britain 31. Apart from the achievements of Finland, which nobody seems able to explain, the most surprising showing in the list is that of France. A generation ago, even a few years ago, no one would have dared to predict that France would ever forge ahead of Great Britain on the athletic field. It is pointed out, however, that the French points were gathered "mainly in the more modern, more mechanical sports, as opposed to the straight tests of bodily strength, fleetness or agility" which were characteristic of the old Greek games, and that in these latter the honors were largely shared by the United States, Finland and Great Britain.

WATERMELONS.

The melancholy days are come.
The melons are on ice.
It takes a most prodigous sum,
To even buy a slice.
Ah, well do I recall the time,
When melons were a-plenty;
We bought the small ones for a dime
The big ones sold for twenty.
To raise them though we used a plan
And took up a collection,
But now it costs an iron man
To buy a quarter section.

The fellow who never felt the need of a vacation is beginning to weaken.

A blind peddler on a downtown corner unguardedly remarked out loud the other day that his sensitive nature has been shocked much more severely by the daring sleeveless gowns this summer than he ever was by the short skirts of yesteryear. Blindness evidently is not always the misfortune we have been led to believe.

"Cold wave" is general, says the weather bureau. And, evidently, generally satisfactory. We haven't heard a single complaint, even from the ice man.

With dandelions in the spring and wire grass in the late summer the man with a lawn may be pardoned for fits of depression.

All the world's a stage, all right, but most of us are only props.

United States uses forty tons of postage stamps each week. Why don't you people pay your bills?

The Charleroi man who has been cussing the man next door all summer for snoring so loudly out on the sleeping porch, feels now that he owes the man an apology. After kissing his wife a fond good-bye, the neighbor left Saturday on a short business trip and the snoring continued that night and the next.

A HOME RUN.

I played golf yesterday for the first time.

How did you make out?

Fine! Made a home run right at the start. I batted the ball into the tall grass on left field and ran around the entire course before I found it.

The Homestead Grays Are To Play Here Saturday At 3:30

Baseball fans of the borough and the community will be pleased to learn that the most colorful team in semi-professional baseball is to come here Saturday, the famous Homestead Grays. The contest is scheduled for 3:30 o'clock. Beatty will pitch for the Charleroi club, and Owens will draw the assignment for the Grays.

The Homestead Grays are known to every person in this part of the state, particularly everyone who is a devotee of baseball. They have always held an edge over Charleroi, and seem to play their best brand of the national game when they strike town. This is because they have the confidence inbred of past victories. The home club has never beaten Owens, their best pitcher, and you couldn't get an even bet when Oscar goes into the pitcher's box for them. However, Manager Mathers pins his faith to Beatty, confident that the veteran, if given the proper kind of support, and any hitting behind him, can beat the Crays, with even the redoubtable Owens in the box for them. Mr. Mathers has signed Venisky for Saturday's game and he may be seen here in games for the remainder of the season. He is the catcher for the Vestaburg club, which team appears here tonight at 5:30 o'clock.

PIRATES RECORD SIXTH STRAIGHT VICTORY YESTERDAY

John McGraw and his champion baseball machine rolled into Forbes Field yesterday afternoon with the avowed intention of mopping up the Pirates in a four day series which is to mark the final appearance of the league leaders in Pittsburgh this year, but the Buccaneers stubbornly refused to abandon any of the boldness and batting spirit that has just carried them through the East at cyclone speed and the Giants were hurled upon their backs in the opening struggle by a score of 4 to 2, keenly delighting 22,000 ladies, gentlemen and children who turned out to welcome home the conquering heroes.

This latest triumph makes it six in a row for the Corsairs, who likewise have lost but three of their last 20 skirmishes, including the 18 which were waged on alien soil. Ten times this season have they flattened out the ancient foe from the Polo grounds, while the Giants still have but six Pirate scalps fastened to their belts. As a consequence, the New Yorkers would not be able to deadlock the season's series if they should have the luck to clean up the clashes of today, tomorrow and Saturday. Their ability to accomplish such a dark deed, however, is emphatically disputed by the fighting Freebooters.

Tories Went to Canada

The descendants of the United Empire Loyalists form a very important section of the inhabitants of the Dominion of Canada. The Loyalists (subjects of the British crown) left the United States at the close of the War of Independence and sought and obtained a home in Canada under the British flag. The majority of the U. E. L. settled in Upper Canada (now Ontario) and the Maritime provinces.

Cause of Sneezing

Sneezing is the involuntary, forcible and audible spasmodic expulsion of air through the nose and the mouth. Ordinarily, sneezing is caused by the inhalation of dust or other small particles which irritate the nasal branches of certain cranial nerves. This irritation causes the reflex act we call sneezing. The irritation may also be caused by the excessive accumulation of ear wax.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO BRADDOCK FRIDAY EVENING

All roads will lead to Braddock tomorrow night. Cuddy DeMarco and Dick Conlin are going to strut their stuff for 10 rounds at the Edgar Thomson ball park. The Braddock Elks are promoting the show. Plenty of good boxing around Pittsburgh, but none in it this summer. Promoters have no desire to purchase Forbes Field for the sake of holding a couple of boxing matches.

A large delegation will be in attendance from Charleroi and contiguous towns. Tickets may be secured at "Bill" Phillips' pool room in Fallowfield avenue.

LEONARD'S INJURIES ARE CONFIRMED BY PHYSICIANS

Examination of Benny Leonard's thumb yesterday by a corps of physicians, including two representatives of the State Athletic Commission, confirmed the extent of injuries sustained by the lightweight champion in his match with Pal Moran at Cleveland and resulted in definitely in calling off his match with Mickey Walker for the welterweight title next week at the Yankee Stadium, New York.

James J. Johnston, promoter, announced after the examination that another conference would be held today to discuss a new date for the match. This, however, may be undecided for some time as physicians said it would be 10 days before they could determine how long Leonards injuries would keep him idle. Examination disclosed that the right thumb had been dislocated at the terminal joint and several ligaments torn.

EDDIE PINCHOT FACES BIG TEST HERE NEXT TUESDAY

When Eddie Pinchot, who meets Chris Newton here next Tuesday night found himself growing heavy he decided to retire from the game. Eddie was originally a bantam, but is now a full-fledged lightweight. Eddie knew that boxers who grow into another class are rarely successful because the gained poundage is generally fat and not brawn. However, Eddie started out very young, and since he has been in the game has developed in height and breadth rather than avoirdupois. Realizing this, he changed his mind about retiring, and agreed to meet the Canadian junior lightweight champion when approached by Matchmaker Walter Campbell of the Elks club, which is sponsoring the show.

If Eddie is successful in his new venture he will continue in the game and go after bigger meat. It would not be surprising to see him battle his fellow townsman, Cuddy DeMarco one of these days. That's what he is pointing for in meeting Newton.

Matchmaker Campbell is still working on his preliminary card, which he promises will be of high calibre in keeping with the 10-round main bout.

Must Cultivate Food

The common impression that the food of Samoa islanders "falls in their laps" is quite wrong, says Prof. W. A. Setchell of the University of California. There are few edible plant products obtained there without regular attention. Every native village has its plantation where the famous bread fruit, bananas and coconuts are raised. The plantations are generally in forest clearings and are allowed to grow up in all sorts of weeds.

Strength of Ice

Science has enabled great military leaders to know when they might cross a river or lake of ice with comparative safety. By actual experiment and computation, it has been found that ice two inches thick will support a man; four inches thick, a man on horseback; five inches thick, an 80-pound gun; eight inches thick, a battery of artillery, and ten inches thick, an army.

Facts About Circus

The American circus as a business venture dates from the days of its inception when it first appeared in 1767 on Boston Common. The first circus to take to the road was founded by Aaron Turner about 1820 at North Salem, N. Y., and the first of the long-lived American circuses pitched its tent in 1824 and bore the name of John Robinson.

Fast Ocean Traveler

There are no speed regulations for the sailfish, the speed demon of the Gulf stream, a giant ocean traveler that can make more than sixty miles an hour, can live part of the time out of the water and travel in the air a distance of forty feet by the use of a great back fin that acts as a sail, according to a writer in Adventure magazine.

Road to Success

Men are best measured by what they do, not by what they say. The bigger the man the bigger the obstacles he overcame to be great. Success lies in fitting oneself to the job, not in fitting the job to capabilities and abilities as they are.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Heroic Struggle for Education He Coveted

The story is told of Kamba, a full-blooded African of the Ndau tribe, who has progressed from absolute illiteracy to a Columbia university degree. The first printing that he ever saw was on a pack of playing cards that came from the coast, and by studying these he taught himself the figures from one to ten. Later he went South to work, and an American missionary there who taught native boys in spite of the opposition of the Portuguese, whose policy is to keep the people ignorant, took him into his home as a house boy.

There the idea of that cultivated missionary, and especially his wife, going to live in that fever-stricken area for the sake of the black boys gave him a new vision. He knew they must have some secret that made them different from all other white people he had ever seen.

When the American missionary left for home, he told his boys of a mission in Rhodesia, and Kamba walked 250 miles to reach there. His capacity and ambition for more education led the missionary to secure work for the boy by which he earned enough to go to Hampton Institute, Virginia.

Earning his living all the time, he took a course of carpentry and then went to Columbia, where he secured the coveted education. His whole ideal in seeking this education has been to go back and develop his own people, but not necessarily on western lines.

World's Rulers Who Were Labeled "Great"

Lord Bryce, in an essay on "Great Men and Greatness," gives a list of 14 names to which the adjective great "is invariably, or at least, usually attached by the world at large." National appreciation runs on more generous lines.

Spain alone has labeled four of her kings "the great," while France pays the same tribute to as many as six sovereigns, says the Detroit News. Russia, Germany, Austria, Denmark, Sweden, Portugal and even Hawaii have attached the adjectives to one or other of their rulers. Ethelred the Unready, king of England, seems to have been the only monarch branded with this adjective.

Some royal epithets refer merely to physical peculiarities, like William Rufus, and the large group of plump monarchs known to posterity as "the fat," Charles the Bold, Pepin the Short, and Olaf the Hungry, are also of this company.

Others have a warlike connotation: Brave, valiant, victorious, hardy, strong, all appear in the list; also terrible, though Ivan of that memory was not so formidable to his foes as to his fellow countrymen. Sulyman I was "The Magnificent," John II (of Portugal) "The Perfect," Louis V "The Well Beloved," and Peter IV (of Arragon), "The Ceremonious." The names of the monarchs acclaimed "wise," "just" or "great" would fill a large space.

STATE FAIR TO BE BETTER THIS YEAR THAN EVER

Indications are that the West Virginia State fair, which will be held September 1 to 6, inclusive, opening as usual on Labor day, will have the largest and best entry in all exhibit departments ever received in the forty-four years history of the fair. Entries in the live stock department are coming in so rapidly that, despite the addition of a new dairy cattle barn to the live stock housing facilities last year, it has been found necessary to engage tents for an overflow exhibit. The display of 4-H club work will be so extensive as to make a junior fair in itself, and the exhibits of poultry, horticultural and agricultural products, women's and children's work, etc., will be on the same huge scale. The automobile show, an acre in extent, and the mercantile exhibits will be finer than ever before, the erection of the new quarter-million-dollar exposition building providing unsurpassed facilities for their display. All the educational features of the fair will be more numerous [illegible]

Excursion rates on all railroads entering Wheeling have been granted for the West Virginia State fair, which will be held September 1 to 6, inclusive. The fare for the round trip will be one and one-half times the regular one way rate, with minimum of 25 cents. The excursion rate tickets will be sold September to 6, inclus- will be sold September 2 to 6, inclus- The special rates will not apply to September 1, as this is Labor day and traffic will be at capacity at regular rates.

The territory from which the special rate tickets will be sold is as follows:

Baltimore & Ohio R. R. — From Buckhannon and all line stations via. Tygard Junction and Grafton, Weston, Clarksburg and New Martinsville. M. R. Division points, Clarksburg and Fairmont, Morgantown, Pennsboro, and line stations. Ravenswood, W. Va., Pittsburgh, Pa., St. Clairsville, Ohio, New Philadelphia, Ohio, Newark, Ohio, and intermediate points.

Pennsylvania R. R. — From all points within a radius of 75 miles of Wheeling, W. Va., and Bridgeport, O.

Wheeling & Lake Erie R. R. — From all points within a radius of [illegible] miles of Wheeling.

Attendance at the fair is expected to exceed all previous records, as improvements to the plant have been made this year amounting to $400,000 while the show itself will be the most elaborate and costly in the history of the fair. Tuesday, September 2, will be "Geers Day," when "Pop" Geers will attempt to lower the world's half mile trotting and pacing records with Peter Manning and Sanardo.

Origin of Americans

The habit of calling inhabitants of this country Americans probably arose from the fact that any other distinctive title is awkward. Canada lends itself easily to the forming of the noun Canadians, Mexico to Mexicans. Citizens of the United States of America are most conveniently designated as Americans.

The Greatest Power

You can't accomplish what you can't imagine. The minute you say to yourself, "Oh, that isn't possible," it isn't possible to you. But some other fellow who, with his mind's eye, sees the thing finished, will come along and do it. Creative thought is the greatest power in the world.

The Work Habit

There are three habits which, but one condition be added, will give you everything in the world worth having, and beyond which the imagination of man cannot conjure forth a single addition or improvement. The habits are the work habit, the health habit and the study habit.—Elbert Hubbard.

Castles

I find the gayest castles in the air that ever were piled far better for comfort and for use than the dungeons in the air that are daily dug and caverned out by grumbling, discontented people. A man should make life and nature happier to us, or he had better never been born.—Emerson.

Like Spoiled Children

When we humor our weaknesses they force themselves continually upon our attention like spoiled children. When we assert our mastery of ourselves and compel its recognition, we stand secure in our sovereign rights.—Charles B. Newcomb.

To Save Paint Brushes

It is advisable never to put a brush away, even overnight, full of paint. A brush should always be cleaned of all surplus paint after use or its chisel edge will be damaged.—Popular Science Monthly.

Must Pay the Price

For anything worth having one must pay the price, and the price is always work, patience, love and self-sacrifice. No paper money, no promise to pay—but the gold of real service.—John Burroughs.

Things You Can't Buy

NEW AUTO DESIGN DRAWS ATTENTION

A rare "stunt" in the design of an automobile came to town today attracting unusual attention wherever it is seen.

Automobile bodies are made in many shapes and sizes, but a 5-cent package of candy fifteen feet long and fifty inches high, done up just as realistically as one could imagine, and running around on rubber tires, strikes one's fancy as being somewhat spectacular.

The car is a truck with an extension frame. On it has been mounted the body, which as to shape, color and lettering, is a faithful reproduction of a full package of "Life Savers, the candy mint with the hole."

W. E. Sollinger, who is traveling through Pennsylvania with this unique automobile, stated while in Charleroi this afternoon that there sixty more just like this car on the roads all over the United States and Canada, and that there are also two of them in England.—Adv.

Some Other Lobster

The wife of a prominent surgeon was accosted by the son of their gardener.

"Well, mebby you didn't tell 'im, but some lobster did!"—Exchange.

Calvin Coolidge Began Public Life As Obscure Councilman, Reaching High Office After Active Service

A biographer has said of President Coolidge:

"The story of Calvin Coolidge is an amazing story, none more so. A red-haired, freckled boy on a plain farm, who was not a leader even among the boys of a small Vermont village, has become President of the United States. He always kept on going, from the farm, on the farm, up and on and always. His is a story for every father and mother and child, a story of responsibilities for the first, and of opportunity for the last."

As a struggling young lawyer in the city of Northampton, Mass., this man who was destined to greatness first became interested in public service and in 1899 he was elected to his first office—city councilman, without a salary.

Successively he has been chosen for eleven additional public offices since that time, a record of twenty-five years of unselfish and able administration. He was the city solicitor of Northampton in 1900 and 1901 and his subsequent offices follow:

Clerk of the Courts, Northampton, 1903.
Chairman Northampton City Committee, 1904.
State representative, 1907-08.
Mayor of Northampton, 1910-11.
State Senator, 1912-13.
President of State Senate, 1914-15.
Lieutenant Governor, 1916-18.
Governor, 1919-20.
Vice-President of the United States, 1921-23.

By being "as quick to stand by the weak when they are right as to leave power when it is wrong," President Coolidge throughout his public career has marked his various administrations with an unquestioned stability.

Momentous decisions have been his to make. He has made them, often under severest criticism, conscious of justice and sympathy. His thought always has been, as R. M. Washburn, a former colleague, declared: "for the long, the permanent good and not for the demand of the present."

In each of his trusts he has kept faith with those who [illegible]

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for a year with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better, and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists tell me that they had something better, but they don't tell me that now, for I take no other. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound now for five years. Any woman who cares to call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—Mrs. MABEL LIST SHERBAHN, 515 Newell Ave., Newcastle, Pa. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Had Proved Herself Too Good a Teacher

The man and the girl loved each other very dearly, says a writer in the Passing Show, London. But, alas, though rich in love and good looks, they were poor in the currency demanded by the butcher, the baker and the candlestick combine.

So the man said: "Beloved, I love you too much to ask you to share a life of penury. I will work hard and acquire much wealth. Then I will return and we will be married and live happy ever after."

So the man departed.

Now, the girl was of a practical nature and she said to herself: "I, too, will endeavor to make some money."

So she considered what money-making pursuit she might follow and she determined to start a correspondence college for women.

She advertised largely in the press, assuring her sisters that she could teach them "how to be beautiful," "the art of fascinating men," "how to win and keep a husband" and many other subtleties.

And before long she realized that she was a success and that her wealth was very considerable.

Accordingly she wrote to her man: "Come home. I have more than enough for both of us."

But he came not. For among the pupils of the correspondence college had been one living in that distant colony whither he had gone. She had found the courses of very great merit—for she had learned how to be beautiful, she had fascinated the girl's man, she had won him and there is no reason to suppose that she had not also learned how to keep him.

French Mother's Wise Admonition and Advice

Work, be strong, have pride, be independent. Ignore the trivialties which go with thy youth. Conserve thy strength of character for actions which are worthy of the effort. A time will come when I will not be here, then think of me, who have suffered and worked cheerfully. We resemble each other in spirit and in appearance. I know from the present what thy intellectual life will be. I fear for thee many deep sorrows. I hope for thee many pure joys. Keep within thee the treasure of kindness. Know how to give freely, to lose without regret, and to acquire honestly. Know how to cherish in thy heart the happiness of those whom thou loveth even if thy love is not returned. Retain the hope of another life: it is there that mothers meet their sons again. Love all of God's creatures. Forgive those who have erred, avoid those who are bad and devote thyself to those who by their virtues are great. —From the French.

Heralded Camera

The camera obscura was a device invented by Battista Porta, an eminent Italian physicist, about 1560 A. D., and was the forerunner of the camera. It consisted of a rectangular box, with a lens whose focal length was equal to the length and depth of the box. On the side of the box opposite to the lens was placed a plane reflector at an angle of 45 degrees. By this means the image of any object toward which the lens was directed was thrown upon a piece of ground glass on the top of the box, in an upright position. By this instrument objects could be viewed or sketched from, as in nature. Newton remodeled the camera obscura, and a new interest was taken in it when, by the invention of Daguerre in 1839, the pictures became "fixed."—Kansas City Star.

Week of Sundays

Most people know that the original Sabbath day of the Fifth commandment corresponds to our Saturday, the seventh day of the week. The early Christians, however, made the following day the sacred day of the week, calling it the Lord's day, because it was on the morning after the Jewish Sabbath that Christ rose from the dead.

It is a curious fact that there is quite an important "Sunday," so to speak, for every day of the week. In addition to the two mentioned already Monday is the Greek Sabbath. Tuesday the Persian, Wednesday the Assyrian, Thursday the Egyptian, and Friday the Turkish.

Royal State Coach

The English royal state coach, which is still in use on ceremonial occasions, is a magnificent vehicle of its kind, and, according to Horace Walpole, cost nearly $38,000. The use of coaches is a comparatively recent innovation, for as late as the reign of Queen Elizabeth the English royal family had to be content with a wagon which was a sort of cart without springs, the body resting solidly on the axle. Before the invention of the coach the most aristocratic ladies were accustomed to ride on pillions fixed on the horse, usually behind some relative or servant.

Liver Troubles

Often become chronic through the continued use of Calomel, Salts and other powerful purgatives. Avoid these if you want to live to a ripe old age. Gently stir up the liver nature's way with one or two Lebanon Herb Tablets and you'll correct and tone up the stomach and get rid of Biliousness and Constipation. Guaranteed. All druggists—35c.
